

RELATIONSHIP

TAG, Galactic System of Transformation

Energy draw between two people represents positive energy constructs and negative energy constructs. The most intense is sexual abuse energy and abuse energy . Sexual abuse energy is very 'sticky' and creates a sense of instant 'bonding'. Hence, "soul mate" with high sexual activity as 'proof'.

In TAG, we use numbers to represent the amount of energy density between two individuals. The total number first. Then, we ask the number density for the healthy/positive energy constructs.

Density: ...1200 Healthy: .. 600

In any long term relationship, the individuals will trigger the negative constructs. In shorter, more casual relationship, the level of relating may never create situations in which the healthy region is moved through into the negative.

1200: Commitment such as marriage, planning life,

900: Spending overnights including sexual intimacy

600: Occasional movie, dinner, conversation

400: periodic meet and greet/church/shopping

What is the motivation to be in relationship for one?

What would one bring to this relationship?

What is one's Divine Family and Assigned Vibration?

What contracts are between them?

What other lives did they share and what was the pattern?
